TALLMAN CLUE FOUND IN OAKLAND

LIFE BELT FOUND ON BEACH

OAKLAND, June 7.—(U.P.)—The first possible clue to the mysterious disappearance of William Tallman, 23, suspect in the Los Angeles murder of Mrs. Virginia Patti, 25, was found here tonight when a life preserver bearing the name "Admiral Benson" was picked up.

Tallman's disappearance from the steamer Admiral Benson while it was enroute here from Los Angeles late Wednesday night brought the theory that he might have jumped off into San Francisco Bay and swam ashore. The life preserver might lead to determination that this belief was true and Tallman is alive.

Oakland Search
There was no indication as to how long the preserver had been on the beach here before it was found or that it was used by Tallman in his escape but circumstances led officers to concentrate their search for the fugitive in this region.

Tallman went to school in Berkeley, a college town directly adjoining this city, and his father works here.

He has many friends in this region, any one of whom might be aiding him to hide.
Activities of authorities, who had been completely baffled for nearly 48 hours since the Admiral Benson arrived with its prisoner missing, were pronounced directly after the find.

Refutes Theory
Providing the life preserver was actually used by Tallman and can be utilized to prove that he

CHILDREN CUT OFF IN WILL

MARTINEZ, June 7.—Five children of the late Enrico Palmieri of Richmond were cut off with bequests of one dollar each while the remainder of his estate, valued at $4500 was left to a friend, Salvatore Corbo of El Cerrito, according to terms of the will filed for probate here today.

Palmieri was plaintiff in a $10,000 alienation of affections suit several months ago against Mike Perino, Richmond contractor. Subsequent to the suit, his wife, Mrs. Clelio Palmieri, divorced him. Mrs. Palmieri also filed suit against Perino, naming him as the father of a three year old son and asking that he be required to pay $50 monthly for the child's support. This case has been set for trial on June 14.

Palmieri who was denied damages against Perino died in Martinez on June 1. His will recognizes the child in question as his own.

OPEN VERDICT RETURNED IN QUIZ OF LOVE NEST MURDER

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(U.P.)—While police of the entire Pacific coast were searching for William Tallman, already named in a complaint charging him with the "clothes closet" murder of Mrs. Virginia Patti, a coroner's jury late today returned an open verdict.

The jury report stated merely that the woman "came to her death from concussion of the brain, caused by blows with a brick in the hand of some person unknown to us, with homicidal intent."

The only reference to the radio technician was the added "we recommend" that William Tallman be found and interrogated.

Mrs. J. W. Wilson, apartment house manager, who discovered the mutilated body of the banker's wife trussed to clothes closet hooks, testified today that from description and photographs she had identified Tallman as the "W. C. Johnson, San Francisco," who rented the apartment.

Frank, Patton, a young shoe clerk said that on May 28, Mrs. Patti had taken him for an auto-

DORAN DENIES BOHNER OUSTER

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(U.P.)—Prohibition commissioner James M. Doran said reports that he is planning to replace E. R. Bohner as prohibition administrator in northern California and appoint W. E. Walker to the post were untrue.

Doran explained that Bohner's eligibility under civil service regulations is now pending before the civil service commission.

Unless Bohner is finally disqualified by the body, Doran said, he not planned to replace him. Walker is chief of police in Fresno, Calif., and stood high in the civil service examination.

"Of course, if Bohner is disqualified, we will have to replace him, Walker is a likely candidate for the job," Doran said. He added that Bohner was a "fairly good administrator."

Alf Ottel assistant prohibition commissioner, is now in California on an inspection trip. Doran said he had planned to visit California himself, but was unable to do so.

DRUM QUILTS AS BANK HEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The board of directors of the American Trust company today accepted the resignation of John S. Drum, president of the company, at a meeting called especially to consider Drum's announcement that he desired to retire.

The resignation was submitted to the board in a telegram from Drum who is visiting in the east.

That he is contemplating activities that would make it necessary for him to spend much of his time away from California was the reason given by Drum for his resignation.

Executive duties of the Trust company will be assumed by John D. McKee, president of the board of directors, according to a statement issued by the bank officials.

It was reported today, however, that the presidency has been offered to F. J. Belcher, Jr., president of the First National Trust and Savings bank of San Diego who has the matter under consideration.

Expressions of regret were made by the board in accepting the resignation.

McKee, for the time being, will exercise the functions of president. He has been identified in banking circles in San Francisco for more than 40 years. He was organizer of the Mercantile Trust company and Mercantile National bank and was the president of the latter bank at the time of its merger with the Savings Union Bank and Trust company in 1920.

Since that time he has been chairman of the board of the consolidated banks known now as American Trust company.

FOUR POLICEMEN AMONG INJURED IN MILL BATTLE

GASTONIA, N. C., June 7.—(U.P.)—Four policemen, including chief of police, and one civilian, were shot and seriously wounded by strikers at the Lorey cotton mills tonight during an attempt on the part of officers to break up a mass meeting of the communistic National Textile Workers' union.

The mill workers have been on strike for several months. The outbreak tonight came after a period of several weeks of quiet. Frequent clashes marked the first days of the strike.

The injured are: Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt, Deputy Sheriff Charles Roach, Policemen Tom Gilbert and Charles Ferguson and a mill worker named Harrison.

Chief Aderholt was shot in the back and lungs. He is not expected to live. Roach received a serious body wound while Gilbert and Ferguson were shot in the legs. Their condition is less serious.

Harrison is believed to have been a bystander who stepped into the line of fire.

The shooting occurred shortly before 11 o'clock, the officers were fired upon as they approached an open air mass meeting in progress in the tent city erected for shelter of the 1700 strikers, evicted from houses owned by the Manville-Jackson company, operators of the local mills.

Mill workers had asked for protection after what was said to have been a particularly fiery address to the strikers by Erwin Beal, member of the International Labor Defense and leading spir-

GIRL HUNTED AFTER PARTY IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, June 7.—(U.P.)—A search for Opal Morgan, 21, was started today by police at the request of the girl's mother, who reported her daughter disappeared Wednesday night under "unusual circumstances."

The mother, Mrs. Ethel Hunt, has been married a second time and she reported to police that her daughter and her husband did not "get along well," and that Miss Morgan lived in an apartment by herself.

Wednesday night, according to Mrs. Hunt, the girl disappeared from a party at her apartment. A patrolman recalled seeing a touring car outside the house with "two nervous-looking young men standing" beside it.

One of them told the officers that he was going to drive to Los Angeles and take a ship for the Orient.

Mrs. Hunt told police she thought her daughter might have gone to Klamath Falls, Ore., where her father resides.

The appeals court held that the three men killed and a fourth injured were guilty of negligence in backing their automobile on the track without looking in both directions.

The county court verdict awarded heirs of William Hallmark, O. A. Barnett and Donald Casmer, killed in the accident, $30,000 and Horace Taylor, injured $6,000.

The youth, Hastings Kelsey, was said to have admitted entering other stores, rifling the cash registers and stealing cigarettes.

His mother, Mrs. Newton S. Kelsey, told police her son was in need of money and that she believed he had crept out of their Hollywood mansion during the night to obtain cash for his story.

The mother said he favored art and writing, was an athlete and industrious. She offered to make good his thefts.

RUSH STARTS IN JUSTICE COURT

Following announcement in the RECORD-HERALD yesterday morning that the State Supreme court had held the Justice court of A. A. Alstrom, legal, the avalanche of suits expected by Alstrom started.

Attorneys and others who had help up actions since the legality of the court was first clouded by Appellate court decisions in February, stormed the office and started filing suits and actions which are expected to exceed 100 within the next 30 days.

Two criminal cases, were heard. 11 civil suits and four small cases were filed during the day, and fines totalling $55 were collected from motorists.

Charles Frank, 28, of Oakland, was the first man to appear before Judge Alstrom. Frank was arrested in Oakland recently on a statutory charge involving a seven-year-old Mira Vista girl. Frank pleaded guilty to the charge and was held to answer for the superior court. Bail was set at $5000. He was later removed to the county jail to Consable James W. Smiley.

A few seconds later W. E. Wright appeared on the complaint of T. P. Caveney, of Richmond, on a charge of violating the state pay day law. Wright, who is a contractor, was released on $100 bail pending appearance at a preliminary hearing Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Local attorneys, their assistants and chief clerks trooped into the office with reams of legal papers and as a result Judge Alstrom was kept busy for several hours entering civil suits in his docket.

A few minutes later a group of motorists appeared in the court on charges of violating late auto municipal traffic laws.

Mrs. E. H. Erickson of Yreka, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a machine without a 1929 license plate. She paid a fine of $5.

Two Mello, of Crockett, forfeited $10 bail on a charge of driving with no muffler.

Appearing on a charge of driving without a muffler, Ernie Johnson, 625 Twenty-fifth street, Richmond, was fined $5.

Bail of $25 was forfeited by P. S. Grange, of Jackson, who failed to appear on a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour.

In spite of the fact that today will be a half holiday in the courts Judge Alstrom expects to be kept busy throughout the day working on legal matters.

Hundreds of civil actions are expected to be filed within the next few days, necessitating a great deal of clerical work for Judge Alstrom.

"Today, tomorrow and for the remainder of the month look like

FILIPPELLI TRIAL SET

John Filippelli, Oakland bail broker whose name was mentioned in the investigation of the mysterious death of Tony Giosso here in February, will go on trial in the San Francisco Federal Court on June 18 on indictments growing out of the recent exposure of the "rum racket" in Oakland and other Eastbay cities.

Date for trial was set yesterday by United States District Judge Frank H. Kerrigan. G. B. Ratto and Dick Gatto, said to be Filippelli's lieutenants, will be tried at the same time.

A motion made by Filippelli's attorney to suppress papers seized in the broker's Oakland office was denied by Judge Kerrigan.

The government maintained that the papers were legitimately taken as material evidence.

Ratto, who has been sentenced to two years in the federal prison and $1000 fine, has filed notice of appeal. His total bail was raised to $40,000 when he was arraigned before Judge St. Surs on a new indictment returned Wednesday and the new bail was set at $1500.

Watkins states that the reason for his absence from the planning commission meeting was that he and Mrs. Watkins were celebrating their wedding anniversary.

He declared that he has never wanted the position of secretary of the commission and has tried on several occasions to get out of those duties but was held on because city officials felt that he, as city manager, should serve as secretary of the commission.

PAPAL STATE ITALY END QUARREL

ROME, June 7.—(U.P.)—The papal state and the Italian government exchanged ratifications of the lateran treaties today and sharply at noon the great bronze doors of the Vatican swung open for the first time since 1870 — formally marking the end of the pope's voluntary imprisonment.

For 59 years, since the fall of the pope's temporal power, the bronze doors had remained partially closed to signify the papacy's "imprisonment" in the Vatican. And as a constant reminder of the church's controversy with the government which had overthrown its temporal powers.

Long Quarrel Ends
This morning at 11:10 o'clock the long quarrel was ended and Vatican City, an independent, semi-sovereign state, came into existence. The last formal step in the historic treaty ceremony was performed by two men who played prominent roles in making possible the settlement.

PITTSBURG CITY MANAGER HIT

PITTSBURG, June 7.—Charges involving his conduct as secretary of the city planning commission were hurled today against Roy A. Watkins, city manager here for a number of years.

William Cohn, plant manager of the Columbia Steel corporation at a meeting of the commission this week at which Watkins, though secretary, was absent, intimated that he thought Watkins "derelict in his duty" in not being present.

Mayor Hugh H. Donovan charges that on at least one occasion Watkins opened communications addressed to him and gave the contents to newspapers before Donovan was advised of the matter.

Watkins states that the reason for his absence from the planning commission meeting was that he and Mrs. Watkins were celebrating their wedding anniversary.

He declared that he has never wanted the position of secretary of the commission and has tried on several occasions to get out of those duties but was held on because city officials felt that he, as city manager, should serve as secretary of the commission.

THE FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

The inherent and instinctive American objection to the doctrine of British prohibition to neutral nations of sea trade with enemies of Britain goes back at least to the year 1793, when President Washington, on Dec. 23 of that year in a confidential message to congress conveyed the information that the British government for reasons of its own was conniving with the Algerian pirates in the seizures of American vessels. The doctrine of absolute supremacy of the flag of Britain on all seas, of course, had long been asserted. The Dutch had struggled against it in the sixteenth century. In 1756 the British government had ordered its cruisers to detain all ships laden with provisions or supplies intended for the use of any French colony. We clashed, diplomatically with that idea. In 1793 the rule of British control was, in the case of the Baltic powers, extended to prohibit to the United States a lawful trade in time of peace. It certainly began to be believed in the United States that it was the purpose of the British government to destroy, or at least greatly to restrain the rapidly growing commerce of our country. Britannia's rule of the waves had begun to be regarded by Englishmen of all classes as virtually a British monopoly of seaborne commerce. It was against such a doctrine as that that the embargo act was passed in 1807. It was for the freedom of the seas that the War of 1812 was fought. The United States had never surrendered—until the measurable surrender on our entrance into the World War—the right to trade with countries with which we are at peace.

It does not affect the merits of this question of the freedom of the seas that Great Britain had some excuse for setting it up in the first place. It was practically the only power worthy of the name of a sea power and if piracy was to be checked, Britain must do it. Out of the long practical supremacy grew up the British notion that absolute mastery of the seas by Britain is a sort of God-given right. But as Mr. Coolidge pointed out in his Ladies' Home Journal article, "the time has gone by when any one nation is likely to be able to control the sea. To set up that claim would be only a fiction and to pursue it would be only a delusion." Certainly the American nation sets up no claim for "control" of the seas. But it is instinctive, as well as reasonable, for Americans to insist upon the right to trade in provisions and the ordinary supplies of peace with all nations with whom they are at peace. Nor is there any reason why the assertion of the right should carry with it any menace to the peace of the world or to our just relations with any power. We believe that the prevailing sentiment of Britain herself is beginning to set in the direction of a recognition of this principle.—Boston Transcript.

Speaking of affronts to the flag, has it ever occurred to the Canadian authorities that a British subject who uses the British flag to protect smuggling, bootlegging, piracy or other methods of violating the laws of friendly nations, is not exactly glorifying the Union Jack?

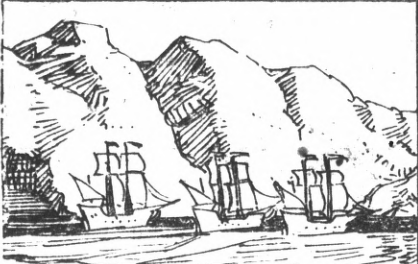

Hector C. Baywater, a British politician, publishes an article showing that it was Great Britain and not the United States which made a sacrifice of battleships in the 1924 arms conference. Which shows that a politician can prove anything.

SHRINE HORDE DESCENDS ON BAY AREA

San Francisco and Oakland yesterday opened wide its doors to 20,000 Shriners, who having attended the fifty-fifth annual convention of the order at Los Angeles, came to San Francisco and the bay region for a "good time."

The city was swathed in flags and wreathed in smiles of welcome in their honor. For a short time it threatened to rain—repeating the June rain that marked the Shrine convention held there several years ago—but the weather cleared and the sun greeted the visitors.

Between 20 and 30 special trains, loaded to the rails with Shriners and their wives, unloaded their cargoes at the San Francisco station. Throughout the day and night thousands of Shriners swarmed through the city.

The first delegation to arrive was that from Medford, Ore., Chicago, 1500 strong, the largest party any railroad ever contracted to carry. Heading the trainloads of Shriners was Arthur Jones, grand potentate of Shrinemod.

Horner Returns
Oakland Shriners, headed by Clara D. Horner, of Richmond, potentate of the Aahmes group were welcomed home in Oakland yesterday and hundreds of the members of the Oakland group entertained visiting Shriners both at Oakland and in San Francisco.

No set program has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors. They will be left to their own, to view the bay region.

Today, Sunday and Monday delegations are scheduled to arrive in San Francisco and join the 20,000 Shriners now there. Tours of the bay region will be featured during the week-end.

Yesterday nearly 700 delegates left on the steamer Malolo for a trip to Honolulu where they will be the guests of the Aloha temple. A Hawaiian fete has been planned for their entertainment.

MRS. TOPAZ IN SOUTH
Mrs. Richard Topaz and children of Mira Vista departed yesterday for Bakerfield where they will visit for a week with her father. Mrs. Topaz will also visit San Luis Obispo before her return.

Rush Starts At Justice Court Here

busy days for me," Judge Alstrom said yesterday.

SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—UP—Legality of the Justice Court at Richmond, believed by some to be contrary to state law since a police court is established in the same city, was upheld by the State Supreme Court in a decision filed here today, concurred in by five justices.

Manuel Romero, held by the sheriff of Contra Costa county on conviction of disturbing the peace, on May 5, filed petition for a writ of habeas corpus for release from imprisonment.

In his petition Romero questioned the validity of decisions of the Richmond Justice Court, declaring that the convicting justice court "was not a legally constituted court, and therefore that all proceedings, including the issuance of commitment under which he is now held by the sheriff of Contra Costa county are illegal and void."

In support of his petition for freedom, Romero referred to an amendment to the State Constitution which states:

"In any city or county where such a Municipal Court (as the Richmond court) is established, there shall be no other court inferior to the Supreme Court."

In denying the writ, the Supreme Court ruled that the amendment cited by Romero did not apply in the present case.

Most of the decision was a history of the case, but quoting from the files of the clerk of the Supreme Court, that body declared in denying the writ of habeas corpus, that "it clearly appears that the officers of the township justice of the peace and city justice of the peace are distinct entities."

The Richmond Police Court is not a "municipal court" as intended under the amended constitution, because the court was established prior to the passage of the amendment which defined the powers of the municipal court, and therefore it can not replace the township court, which by coincidence has the same boundaries as the city of Richmond, the Supreme Court contended.

mobile ride and had told him that her husband was away and that she was lonely. In response to her invitation he called at her home, not the murder apartment—last Friday.

He said that he and Mrs. Patty had some wine and that he had stayed only a short time because he had another appointment. On the table, he testified, was a note asking Mrs. Patty to "call Mr. Johnson."

The incident, last Friday, the night before the murder is believed to have taken place. Early Saturday morning, Miss Elaine Tipton, occupying the apartment above the one in which the murder took place, heard screams, she testified. A woman screamed "Earl." Miss Tipton did not think it was "Bill," a shortening of Tallman's given name.

The finding of the body, with the head beaten in with a brick, was told by Mrs. Wilson, the apartment manager.

While there were some reports that Frank D. Patty, the husband, knew of his wife's love affairs and contemplated a divorce, he made repeated denials. He said he first learned of his wife's men acquaintances when he rushed here from Portland, Ore., to aid in the search for his wife.

jumped off the Admiral Benson after it sailed through the Golden Gate it would possibly refute the testimony of a passenger on the boat that a splash was heard while off the northern California coast.

Also it would refute another theory that Tallman jumped from the ship with intention of drowning.

Added By Tides
Tides of San Francisco bay would have aided him Wednesday night in reaching the shore.

He could have made his way out of a locked and guarded state room while at sea, hidden on board and jumped after or just before docking when he would have been about two miles from where the preserver was found, and aided by five hours of remaining darkness.

His disappearance was to avoid a detective from Los Angeles who was at the dock in San Francisco and who held a warrant for his arrest.

POLICE ADMIT CASE BAFFLING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—UP—A blind search that exceeded in some respects the historic hunt for William Edward Hickman continued tonight as police grudgingly admitted the cleverness of William Loren Tallman, 23, had completely baffled them.

Fugitive from justice since he mysteriously eluded a guard over his locked room on the steamer Admiral Benson and vanished from the decks of the ship before it docked here late Wednesday night, Tallman was probably smiling broadly at amazement of police if he were able to obtain newspapers.

Overshadowed Murder

The murder escape, so extraordinary that it had never even been surmised as possible by a score of detectives who awaited him here, had overshadowed the crime for which he was wanted for questioning, the murder of pretty Mrs. Virginia Patty, wife of a Portland banker.

Tallman's escape, for it brought results more amusing to casual observers than usual in criminal cases, was far more interesting than the Hickman case in this respect. Also, unlike Hickman, Tallman had not communicated with anyone since his disappearance to knowledge of police and therefore police could not place their finger on any one city where he might be.

Several Clues

While some took his complete silence as indication he had jumped off the Admiral Benson and never reached shore, a majority believed he had successfully swam to the beach somewhere along the California coast or was still hiding on the vessel.

In fact the possibility he never could have left the Admiral Benson so intrigued authorities that two detectives were aboard the steamer tonight as it was proceeding from here to Portland, Ore.

These police were so taken off guard when they failed to find Tallman in his room that they could not imagine any possibility of his being off the ship.

Piano Searched

They went so far as to stop a girl playing a piano on board the Admiral Benson and scanned inside it even though every note was striking clearly. At another time they knocked on the door of a stateroom occupied by a woman and had the door slammed in their face. They crawled about on their hands and knees, peering under settees and considered every aperture as to whether it was large enough for a man to crawl in.

The official reception committee from the city of San Francisco, "the city that knows how," was shunned completely by the guest whose greeting had been carefully arranged for 24 hours. And Tallman, the youth who calmly granted an interview to newspapermen before it sailed from Los Angeles harbor and told them no police officers had come to see him before his departure, was missing for the second night. His last known words, contained in a radio-gram from the ship, were "not guilty."

SKULL FOUND IN RUINS OF BUILDING

HOLLYWOOD, June 7.—(U.P.)—Finding of a charred skull in the ruins of a Hollywood Hills home which burned a year ago, caused police to believe tonight that a murder which came as a climax to a series of "wild parties" had been revealed.

Workmen found the skull, a handful of hairpins and three bullet marks in a wall. From this slender evidence and from the stories of neighbors detectives reconstructed a crime.

The house burned of July 31, 1928. For weeks previous to that date, neighbors had complained of wild parties in the pretentious residence, which had been vacated by its owner. Police, responding to calls, found the house deserted.

On July 31, a woman neighbor heard screams coming from the house. Then she heard what she believed were seven gun shots, followed by the dash of two men from the house. They disappeared in an automobile and a few minutes later an explosion rocked the mansion and blew out a wall of the garage beneath. The skull was found in the garage.

While there was no suggestion of murder at the time, the men sought on arson charges could not be traced. Police were attempting tonight to establish a motive, possibly that a jealous husband had found his wife's rendezvous, or that the house had been appropriated by bootleggers. Harry E. White, the owner, said he had no explanations to offer.

The Redmen junior baseball team, champions of the Richmond American Legion baseball loop will meet the strong Martinez team here this morning at 10 o'clock at the First street park.

This game will virtually decide the winners of the western half of Contra Costa county and will determine which squad plays in the finals on July Fourth at El Cerrito.

Babich, Bono and Lemon will be pitchers for the local team which has been playing first class ball this year.

Richmond Tennis Stars In Tourney
Richmond representatives in the Pacific Coast championship tennis tournament to start at Berkeley today, will go into play this morning.

Tennessee Town To Lose Prestige As Gretna Green

BRISTOL, Tenn., June 7.—UP—Young sweethearts in Virginia planning to elope here or Cumberland Gap and get married must do it before July 1, for then the new Tennessee marriage law becomes effective.

The law provides that persons under 21 must apply for their licenses five days before the ceremony and notice of application must be forwarded to all parents.

Young couples almost traditionally eloped here to marry to escape the Virginia law prohibiting marriage of persons under 21 without parental consent.

Young Corbett Wins S. F. Bout
SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—UP—Young Corbett of Fresno defeated Al Van Ryan, Duluth, Minn., in a 10 round bout that featured excitement here tonight.

Other results: Ollie Bartlett defeated Tommy McConnell; Jimmy O'Dowd defeated Joe Ferguson; Jimmy Parker defeated Johnnie Simpson; Red Millett defeated Burt Wicks and Charlie White knocked out Kid Francis in the third round.

HIGH MAY GO INTO C. I. F. IN 1930

Richmond union high school may enter a football team in the 1930 C. I. F. contests, according to an announcement made yesterday.

For years the pupils of the local high school have fought to have their football teams entered in the league. Their requests were denied by W. T. Helms, city superintendent of schools who declared that the championship matches interfered with school work.

Since championship matches have been abolished by the C. I. F., Helms has withdrawn most of his opposition to the proposal of the Richmond team entering the league.

Ivan W. Hill, head coach at the local school, is studying the plan and will make overtures to the officials of the C. I. F. for entrance.

It will be almost impossible for the local school to enter the league this season as all seasons for the league have been drawn up.

If the Richmond school decides to enter the league, it will probably be accepted as a member of the loop in 1930.

The Insurance Agent nine of the Richmond Commercial Twilight league yesterday afternoon surprised the fans, scorekeeper and themselves by defeating the league leading Eclipse lodge.

Wrecking Crew by a score of 4 to 2 at the First street field. Centering their attack in the third inning, the Agents scored three runs before they could be halted. Ripley drew a walk; Harrison got a double scoring Ripley. Conon fled out as did Braneff. Burg came through with a double, scoring Harrison and he trotted home a few minutes later when Hill hit a double. Greathouse fanned to end the rally.

The winners got their fourth tally in the fifth inning when Burg scored on Hill's double.

The Eclipse team made one run in the first and one in the second inning.

Burg was on the mound for the Agents and pitched a good brand of baseball. Only five Lodge men were able to collect hits. C. Orr hurled for the losers.

MISSIONS LOSE AS OAKLAND WINS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—UP—San Francisco Seals beat Hollywood and took the advantage of the league leading Missions, who were losing a double header to Los Angeles, to six and a half game lead in the Pacific Coast league today.

The Seals made three errors but outbit the Stars to win, 4 to 2, and continued rapid ascent toward first place. They had all four runs before they let Hollywood score.

By winning both games, the first 9 to 5 and the second 7 to 1, the Angels evened the series with the Missions. After the second inning of the first game they were ahead all the way, but had more trouble in the first game when the Missions made five more hits than they did, and in the second when five runs in the sixth inning were decisive.

Oakland made its hold on fourth place more secure by beating Portland 7 to 4, making all seven runs in the first two innings, and Sacramento, as on Thursday rallied in the ninth inning to beat Seattle 5 to 4.

REFINANCING OF HOTEL PLANNED

Money to be raised through an assessment of $16,313, against each share of stock in the Carquinez Hotel, will be used in paying off part of the $75,000 mortgage against the property, E. M. Downer, president of the company declared in a statement issued yesterday.

Downer stated that the full amount raised, nearly $30,000 will be used in satisfying part of the mortgage in a refinancing plan under which it is hoped to get a better rate of interest on the amount still remaining due.

Interest Paid

In his statement, Downer declared that the hotel corporation has been holding its own in a satisfactory manner as far as the running expenses of the hotel were concerned. Enough money has also been available at all times to take care of the interest on the indebtedness the statement declared.

"With the smaller amount of the loan against the hotel, we hope to obtain a more advantageous rate of interest," the statement read.

"We hope that every stockowner in the hotel company will pay up his assessment," Henry Johnston, secretary of the hotel company said yesterday. "The reduction of the mortgage will make the stock worth that much more. Besides that, we are anxious to maintain the wide interest in the hotel and its affairs which is obtained by distribution of the stock among the people of Richmond."

Expect Payment

Downer stated yesterday that he fully expected the entire amount assessed against the stock to be raised as there will be no trouble in selling the delinquent stock for the amount of the assessment. It was the wish of the directors however, that present holders of stock should retain their units by paying the assessment.

Accounts of the hotel, according to the statement, show that the bills are all paid and that the total of $30,000 can be devoted to the reduction of the mortgage.

COUNTY C. OF C. SCORES NEW RAIL LINE

The Contra Costa County Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted resolutions opposing the proposed rail extension of the Great Northern-Pacific between Klamath Falls and Keddies, thus making the nineteenth civic organization to take such action.

Determining to intervene in behalf of the Southern Pacific railroad against the proposed construction of Great Northern-Pacific on the grounds that "duplicating railway lines impose an unnecessary burden on the freight and traveling public which react injuriously against the interests of Contra Costa County," the chamber declares that "the proposed line would serve only to divide potential traffic without providing any benefit to the public in lower rates or improved service."

The Southern Pacific company has spent large sums of money in maintaining a first class railway equipment for the needs of the state of California, according to the resolution.

It adds that there is no need of further service in northern California.

Salinas chamber of commerce, representing one of the greatest shipping centers of perishables in California also has adopted resolutions protesting the uneconomical burden that would be created by the construction of unnecessary and paralleling rail lines. The Richmond chamber of commerce and the Richmond city council recently adopted similar resolutions against wasteful rail duplication.

The officers had reached a point about 100 yards from the meeting when a soccer or more shots were fired in rapid succession.

Apparently the shots came from darkened tents near the meeting. Immediately broke up in confusion and an unidentified man called for volunteers to help carry the wounded to hospitals. Several other officers in the group attempting to break up the meeting were unharmed. A search was made of the tents but no one was found, and no arrests had been made.

The king's reply said: "I am moved by the kind telegram sent me by Your Holiness at the moment ratifications of the Lateran accord were exchanged. I reciprocate the well wishings and raise hope to God that through today's act a new and happy era in the relations of the church and state begin, so I am thankful to Your Holiness, together with Her Majesty, the queen, and my royal family, for the apostolic benediction imparted to us."

Fifty papal flags were raised in various places in the papal domain immediately after exchange of ratifications. Colonel Hirsch-Buhl, commander of the famous papal Swiss guards, took possession of the main approach to Vatican City as the bronze gates swung wide at noon. This approach, on the left side of St. Peter's, had been guarded by Italian policemen since 1870. The guard commander thanked the Italian commander for the service of his men and the policemen saluted and withdrew.

House Approves Agreement On Farm Measure

WASHINGTON, June 7.—UP—The House approved quickly and quietly today the farm bill agreement which eliminated the debt plan and sent the bill to the senate where it became the center of hectic trading for votes to keep the debt plan out permanently.

Trading has been directed at a few Democrats who, it was thought, might weaken in their support of the debt plan, which President Hoover opposes, Democratic Floor Leader Robinson, who returned today from Arkansas, immediately began to yield his influence to hold party debt plan advocates in line. All but four Democrats voted for the debt plan when it was approved by the senate.

Robinson sent out a call for a party conference Monday at which he will seek to rally Democrats behind the debt plan and also will outline his own position regarding a congressional recess. Robinson said today he would oppose fixing a date for vote on the tariff, a condition of a summer recess, until Republicans agree to give full consideration to amendments that Democrats plan to offer.

When the farm bill arrived in the Senate today, it immediately became the pending business. It will be taken up tomorrow. Every indication points to a bitter fight about the debt plan which has put over by a coalition of the Democrats and 13 western Republicans, 47 to 44. A vote may not come until late next week, though every effort will be made to rush it through.

Automobile Owners Protect Yourselves

J. B. Baldwin, local insurance man, gives further information regarding drastic new automobile laws. The new law, says Baldwin, places the automobile owner in a position where he must virtually guarantee payment of judgments up to $10,000.00 for property damages, $5,000.00 for injury to one person and $10,000 for injuries to two or more persons.

Failure to pay judgments within 15 days will cause the automobile owner to lose his license until judgment has been satisfied. Baldwin is in a particularly advantageous position to give prompt service to this class of business. His rates will be greatly advanced July 1st. As an illustration, a Ford car that he could insure now for $16.00 will cost $28.00 next month. Baldwin can arrange reasonable time to pay for this coverage.

Well particulars regarding this necessary insurance will be cheerfully given by calling at Mr. Baldwin's office at 225 6th Street, Phone Rich. 613.—Adv.

'GRUNDY' ARMY BATTLES ON TARIFF

WASHINGTON, June 7.—UP—The horde of high tariff advocates sometimes known as Grundy's Army is mobilizing for the second battle of its 1929 offensive against foreign commercial competition.

The exact size of the force which descends upon the capital every time a tariff bill is in the making cannot be determined but it runs well into the hundreds. Virtually every manufacturer who believes his business would be benefited by higher tariff protection is represented.

Some industrialists come themselves; some send a personal representative; but most of them band together in organizations and hire a "legislative representative" to lay their case before the committees of congress which draw up the tariff schedules.

More than 1100 witnesses appeared before the House Ways and Means committee during the course of its hearings on the tariff rates on various commodities, but the majority were on the bull side. Most of these witnesses, and some new ones, will appear before the Senate Finance sub-committees which start hearings on the House bill next Wednesday.

To facilitate its work, the committee has divided itself into four sections, each in charge of a certain class of schedules, to hold simultaneous hearings. But this method, it hopes to give time and attention to all the Grundy warriors.
